I've always enjoyed learning about Arthur's legends and all that. However, it is certainly impossible if you can not play such games without access, do you? I'm a completely blind man, and this game sounds like it would be even more if people me and those who have visual impairments could play. As I said, I'm completely blind, so I don't know if vision is contrasting enough for VI (visually impaired) people to use. Please do this for your updates. For the completely blind and partially sighted, you can connect this game to the Unity Engine so that it is self-expressed. You can also make it self-expressed as a game of Blind Legend. Another way is to hook up the game with Apple VoiceOver. This, allowing people like me to browse the iDevice screen, do it with the game as well. of course you can make a digital person through the game/characters, that is, visually impaired and/or blind in some cases. However, if you do, try to portray a blind character positively without stereotypes, which are often heard in the community of blindness- stereotypes that are not presented here, but many exist. Thank you, Ashleigh S. Piccininop S. Of course, visually impaired people in the game must also be portrayed positively. Hello, my Lord, we appreciate you time to write. I've been playing and enjoying the game since 2017 and I'm enjoying it all the time. So many people have left so many people have come into this game. But those who stayed, they became very close friends. Graphics and design are improving. The game becomes more affordable. All I can say in this game is just a strategy game that keeps me coming back and spending some time in it. But the most important thing is that those people who play in your alliance are the ones who drive you back into the game. At first I spent a lot I think for me 5 figures were almost not enough annual spending to stay in the top 3 kingdom. Now they make it more interesting with events so that free players and low-spending people can also enjoy the game. I hope this game will push harder to make it more affordable so people don't have to worry about cheaters. Play and pay, but don't just pay to play. Thank you very much to the whole team that makes this game more interesting. And few suggestions for new comers if you are mentally unstable please stay away from this game. This is a very emotional driving game! Politics in this game is very important. More friends more opportunities to enjoy the game! Have fun and best wish from all fip and KOA members kd399👍 I've played this game since October 2019 and I enjoyed it until recently. For some unknown reasons, this company decided not to allow players with the iPhone 8 Plus and to update the latest version of this game. My problems started, they first brought version 8.6. At the time I had a few iPhone 6 plus, but I had minor problems with error messages and support support told me to delete the game and reboot it. The biggest mistake of my life, not being able to connect to the game on that iPhone since. And every time I open a ticket they just close without resolution. So I decided to get a new iPhone 8 Plus. Oh I can still play, but only the old version and not sure how long the games are going to allow me to do it. But every time I try to update the latest version, it fails to load. I say it's 1 thing after another. The game has finally updated my new iPhone 8 Plus. It's fun! Hello, my Lord, we apologize for the inconvenience. Our team is making great efforts to assist all players in their research as soon as possible. Please note that some questions may require more time to be thoroughly checked and reviewed. Rest assured that our team will respond to your message as soon as they can. We hope to help you!
